The UMA Work Group charter is revised

Want to know if collaborative work on User-Managed Access is for you? Check out the group's charter document! The next phase of our efforts involves four prongs: 1) spec enhancements (such as extensions); 2) business model (aka "UMA Legal") work; 3) promoting adoption; and 4) promoting interop. If any of these could accelerate your own efforts, join us!

The UMA 2.0 Grant for OAuth 2.0 Authorization and Federated Authorization for UMA 2.0 Recommendations can be downloaded at the Kantara Reports & Recommendations page. Need to cite or deep-link? Find HTML versions here: UMA2 Grant Recommendation, UMA2 Federated Authorization Recommendation. And check out the draft UMA Business Model report.

Many resources to understand more about UMA are available. Don't miss the UMA2 masterclass delivered by two UMANitarians at the Identiverse conference in Boston in June 2018 (slides and video). (The slides and video from the previous year's Authorization: Age of UMA session set in the Marvel Cinematic Universe was also a big hit!) The Release Notes are up to date with all final UMA2 changes. See also the UMA Implementer's Guide, our list of known Implementations, and discussions of Case Studies, all of which continue to grow. Finally, see the detailed UMA Grant sequence diagram and FedAuthz sequence diagram.

User-Managed Access (UMA) is an award-winning OAuth-based protocol designed to give an individual a unified control point for authorizing who and what can get access to their digital data, content, and services, no matter where all those things live. Read the specs, join the group, check out the implementations, follow us on Twitter, like us on Facebook, get involved!

The UMA Roadmap for 2016 page guided the use cases and technical issues that the Work Group focused on in its UMA V2.0 effort. You can find other drivers in the Work Group's original compendium of Scenarios and Use Cases, its Case Studies page, and its User Stories page.
