UMA CrowdTilt campaign status

It's looking like it probably won't "tilt", but please keep those cards and letters coming!

Venue analysis

No additional thoughts. We'll update this topic after the Kantara leadership summit this week.

BlueButton+ update from Josh and Justin

Josh walked through a demo of an OAuth-protected health-related service and the work around dynamic registration. There are some "structured scope tricks" used to enable access to multiple peoples' health data; we recommended looking at UMA sooner rather than later in order to encourage less proprietary/more functional access management. And there are ways UMA ecosystems in limited trust circles could leverage the registration flows to enable static pre-onboarding of partners. Finally, we think we can leverage the BB+ use cases in capturing UMA-for-healthcare case studies. We'll stay in touch and hope to find more synergies. Thanks, guys!
