The Kantara Identity and Privacy Incubator (KIPI) is a Trust-oriented R&D program operated by Kantara Initiative with grant funding from partner, Rutgers University, through its program, Command, Control, and Interoperability Center for Advanced Data Analysis (CCICADA).

The program comprises a series of applied research and advanced development pilots to improve identity management and privacy in real-world situations to deliver trusted services to citizens and customers, that in due course could potentially be commercialized.

The program is currently fully subscribed.

Check back regularly for RFP solicitations in areas of interest specified by the Program funder or Contact Us to be kept informed of any change in status.
